CALEDON'S SUCCESS IN ATTRACTING INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTED IN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT ANNUAL REVIEW

Left: The 2009 Economic Development Review is available for download at www.caledon.ca/edc or by contacting the Town of Caledon's Economic Development department at 905-584-2272.

Despite the continued economic downturn throughout 2009, Caledon's economy showed signs of improvement in terms of having stable and strong investment activity. Caledon's Economic Development department released the Town's 2009 Annual Review, a yearly publication documenting investment activity in the community. This year's Report confirms that Caledon continues to be an excellent place for investment in the Greater Toronto Area (GTA).

"Caledon is one of Ontario's most vibrant and attractive communities for investment, drawing industry leaders from around the world," said Mayor Marolyn Morrison. "Caledon has a strong and diversified economic base - due in part to the efforts of the Town's Economic Development team."

The 2009 Review includes statistics on investment and commercial land transactions, profiles on new companies in Caledon, statistics on ICI projects, and highlights on the Town's marketing, public relations and communications projects. One key element of Caledon's economic activity is working together with existing companies to foster growth and business retention. Economic Development also provides strategic advice and guidance to new and existing businesses and creates development programs for investors that contribute to the Town's growing economic prosperity.

The Review is available for download at www.caledon.ca/edc or by requesting a copy from Economic Development at edc@caledon.ca
